

PROFILE

IAN FOSTER, MBA

EXPERT FOR PRESENTATION AND EXECUTIVE COACHING

One thing has always been in focus for me: the ‘with each other, for each other’ – and all the people I have the privilege of meeting and supporting during my professional life. Whether in connection with presentations or management coaching sessions, observing how they continue their development injects my life with purpose and it is exactly this development which I strive to promote through my work as a coach, consultant and trainer.
